Letter from the Vice-Principal

Hi everyone,

In our last newsletter, I opened with a reflection on who we are at Kootenay Discovery School—a school stretching across multiple communities and demographics from Cranbrook to Elkford. This month, I'd like to continue that thread by exploring what we do.

At the end of the 2024-25 school year, we sent out a community survey that was completed by 74 stakeholders. We heard from students, parents, teachers, support staff, and community members and the feedback was clear - at KDS, learning isn't one-size-fits-all. While at first glance what we do might seem straightforward (we offer flexible, personalized online and blended learning for K-12), as our recent community-wide survey reminded me, there's much more happening beneath the surface—work that is nuanced, adaptive, and attuned to the complex realities of our learners' lives.

So what do we do? We create space. For students navigating mental health challenges, social anxiety, or complex family situations. For learners who need time to travel, work, heal, or explore. For parents seeking guidance in their at-home learning facilitation. For students who want to catch up, go deeper, or leap ahead.

WHAT ARE OUR STUDENTS SAYING?

- "I love that I can work at my own pace. I love that when I can't handle school, I'm not behind when I come back. I love that the teachers are understanding."
- "I get to do my schoolwork when I'm feeling focused, not just when the bell rings."
- "I like that I am developing the ability to understand myself as a learner and how I learn best."
- "I love that I can redo my work if I didn't get it the first time. It's way less stressful and I am able to enjoy learning more."

What are five words that best represent who we are as a school community?

FLEXIBLE
SUPPORTIVE
INCLUSIVE
INNOVATIVE
PERSONALIZED

"We craft pathways that are as diverse as our learners themselves."

We do this through:

- Flexible pacing that allows students to work ahead, slow down, or pause when needed.
- Personalized learning plans tailored to each student's goals and needs.
- Blended learning options that combine online coursework with in-person support, outdoor experiences, and community-based learning in Cranbrook and Fernie.
- Relational support from teachers who connect through email, video, or in-person for guidance.

Our survey results also pointed to areas we want to grow: expanding course offerings, improving feedback systems, supporting our teachers to avoid burnout, and building more vibrant in-person hubs for social and experiential learning. We hear you, and we're working toward these aspirations together.

So whether you're logging in from a kitchen table in Elkford, joining a support block in Cranbrook, or collaborating at the portable in Fernie, you're shaping this school every day - just by being here, asking questions, giving feedback, and showing up in your own way. More to come next month, but for now: thank you for being a part of what we do.

Darlene

You can do this easily through the progress and pacing tool. CLICK BELOW for a video tutorial if you need a refresher on how to use this.

Fernie Middle Updates

April 2025: our middle school blended learners have had some fun outdoor excursions this month, learning and practicing outdoor cooking skills and also spending a morning with the Elk River Alliance to again support their Cottonwood Restoration efforts along the riverbank. A huge thanks to the KDS PAC for their support in purchasing new camp stoves, pots, pans and more. The middle school students will be sharing the technique and safety skills as well as creative meal planning with their K-6 counterparts at our camping trip in June!

Cranbrook Updates

April 2025: Our Cranbrook K-9 blended program has been busy trying new sporting and cooking experiences. These include rock climbing at the ARQ Climbing Centre, disk golfing at Idlewild Park, swimming and cooking quesadillas at the East Kootenay Foundry's kitchen. We have a focus on encouraging students to experience new and familiar activities to promote socialization and health.

At the bottom of the window, there is a blue link that says "Click here" followed by the text "to review how to set your pacing and progress widgets!".
